BÉRÊCHE ET FILS

Nestled in the heart of Montagne de Reims you would find Bérêche et Fils, an iconic grower producer that helped to put that category of Champagne on the map for wine professionals and consumers alike. Originally founded in 1847, it's the more recent vision of brothers Raphaël and Vincent who have steadfastly focused on vintage purity and a combination of single-site and blended site Champagnes that has made Bereche the collectors' item it is today.

EGLY OURIET

Led by fourth generation winemaker, Francis Egly, Egly-Ouriet is one of the most sought-after Pinot Noir dominant Champagne producers in the market. With a production philosophy focused on using truly ripe grapes for each bottling, these wines stand out as elegantly concentrated when so often you see producers feeling the need to choose one or the other. Francis' diligence in the vineyard and deft touch in the cellar has led him to consider the wines of Burgundy his greatest competition rather than his neighbors in Champagne.

ARISTA

The new kid on the block as far as Russian River Valley producers go, the McWilliams' founded Arista in 2002 and wasted no time amassing an almost immediate following thanks to their uncompromised dedication to quality sites and low intervention winemaking techniques. Keeping production compact, they only do what they know – Pinot Noir and Chardonnay – and strive for unparalleled site and vintage typicity. For the Chardonnays, that means no big Cali oak bombs here, just a kiss of oak and pure fruit!

RAMONET

An icon of Montrachet, Ramonet is an irrefutable star and has been recognized as such for decades. Now producing 24 appellation specific wines, the Domaine has never lost its focus of producing highly individualized wines – allowing each site to showcase its unique personality. As such, they take some time to open in the glass, revealing another layer or flavor with each sip.

ETIENNE SAUZET

Centrally located in Puligny-Montrachet, Etienne Sauzet has been a beacon of affordable quality white Burgundy since the estate's inception. Known for their power, these wines rely on Chardonnay's natural strength rather than oak to make a boldly elegant statement with each sip; traits that each generation has upheld even as they've modernized their production and converted their farming techniques to biodynamic.

HEXAMER

The Hexamer family has been growing grapes in the Nahe region since the 17th century but it wasn't until the 1960s that the latest generation decided to parlay centuries of successful grape growing into successful wine production. Today the wines focus on fruit from two distinct sites that both lend a definitive mineral quality coupled with precise fruit and, in the older vintages especially, a density rarely found in the region.

DOMINUS

A Napa Valley gem with French roots, Dominus' unique location at the original Napanook vineyard site on the edge of Yountville and Oakville has allowed owner Christian Moueix to bring a taste of Bordeaux to the states. By employing traditional Old World techniques like dry farming and low intervention winemaking, Dominus makes wines that bridge the gap between ripe fruit and powerful structure with a focus on finesse.

ANTICA TERRA

Located in Oregon's Willamette Valley, Antica Terra quickly rose to cult status under the helm of winemaker Maggie Harrison – formerly of California cult winery Sine Qua Non. Specializing in Pinot Noir, Maggie melds together concentration and elegance in every bottle, allowing each of her unique sites to have their own personality and drive. So, whether you're looking for darker, brambly fruit, bright red fruit or pure herbal flavors, there's something for everyone in her portfolio.

BACHELET

This petit Domaine – only 4 hectares big! – located in Gevrey-Chambertin easily achieved a tight knit following due to both the scarcity of the wines but also the marriage of elegance and power in every bottle. Bachelet is known for focusing on the higher-toned red fruit of Pinot Noir – a stark departure from many of his neighbors who love the dark fruited spice of the region – and while the wines do take some time in decanter to reach their full potential, they are well worth the wait!

PICHON LONGUEVILLE COMTESSE DE LALANDE

Outside of the fame that comes with being Chateau Latour's next-door neighbor, Pichon Longueville Comtesse de Lalande is one of the most iconic second growths of Pauillac. Covering roughly 85 hectares that straddle Pauillac and Saint-Julien the complexity achieved from the unique terroir and climate has often had this wine being described as "almost a first growth." With a strong and consistent backbone of Cabernet Sauvignon from vintage to vintage these wines strike balance between power of structure and ample fruit.

CHAVE

Since 1481 the Chave family has been producing wine in the northern Rhone specializing in Syrah, Marsanne and Roussane, making a 16-generation long chain of what have now come to be known as iconic winemakers. Focusing on vintage purity – which often results in extended bottle aging being a must, no popping these bottles early – these wines are dense, powerful versions of red and white showcasing all the region has to offer.

JOGUET

From artist to winemaker, Charles Joguet returned to his family domaine in 1957 to bring an artistic perspective to the old vine Cabernet Franc. His first step was to discontinue the blending of all parcels that his family had steadfastly relied on and instead identified unique plots to be bottle singularly or blended in smaller batches. The result is an intense focus on site specificity and quality – producing finessed versions of Cabernet Franc vintage to vintage.

GIACOMO CONTERNO

Maybe one of the most iconic names of Piedmont, Giacomo Conterno has made himself synonymous with quality in Barolo through an unrelenting dedication to traditional wine production methods since 1924. The only 'modernist' change over the years was a steady switch from exclusively purchased fruit to mainly estate fruit as the Conterno's slowly purchased land in some of the top crus of Serralunga d'Alba. Today they are hold outs in the area, sticking to long macerations, extended aging in cask and the traditional Barbera and Nebbiolo of the region. With a century of experience – and only three winemakers during that time – Conterno is worth the wait.

COLOMBINI

Since the Middle Ages the land on which Donatella Cinelli Colombini's estate sits today has been prized for its location, just north of the town of Montalcino, but the wines we're showcasing really came into focus in the late 1990's when Donatella established her two wineries – one in Montalcino and one in Chianti. She had a clear vision of producing great wine, a common ideology, and of doing something that had not yet been executed in Italy – having an all-female staff. Since the beginning she has been producing Brunellos that walk the line between modernist and classic while also shattering the glass ceiling of Italian winemaking by employing badass women to do so.

PAOLO BEA

Power, structure and an unrelenting dedication to tradition are the hallmarks of Paolo Bea. Located in Montefalco, the heart of Umbria, the Bea family has been documented in the area since the 1500's and has always been a wine producing family, but it was originally just for their own consumption. Today, Paolo with the help of his two sons, Giuseppe and Giampiero, focuses on the native Sagrantino and Sangiovese to make the wines of their ancestors available to any interested in the denser, more powerful side of these Italian grapes.

MUSAR

Pioneers in Lebanon's Bekka Valley, Musar has been churning out high quality red and white wine since 1930 when Gaston Hochar planted his very first vine cuttings from Bordelaise vineyards. Since then, Musar has grown a small but international following of wine professionals and consumers who have realized just how special the Chateau's marriage of traditional French grapes and those native to Lebanon are. For those who are looking for something new but also somehow familiar, Musar never fails to disappoint.
